

J. Weiland, Slice & Co. Specializes In Business Transformation Services, Targeting Small To Mid-Market Driven To Seek Optimal Business Operations

J. Weiland, Slice & Co. specializes in business transformation services, and as a new company, is targeting the small to mid-market driven to seek optimal business operations. Its mission is to work closely with clients to identify cost reduction strategies, greater efficiencies and speed-to-market targets in the face of volatile market forces. Co-founder Jim Weiland and his team of experts are ex-IBM employees with a vast range of experience, gained in a diversity of worldwide geographies.

Waxhaw, North Carolina (PRWEB) September 30, 2011 -- J. Weiland, Slice & Co. specializes in business transformation services, and as a new company, is targeting the small to mid-market driven to seek optimal business operations. Its mission is to work closely with clients to identify cost reduction strategies, greater efficiencies and speed-to-market targets in the face of volatile market forces. Co-founder Jim Weiland and his team of experts are ex-IBM employees with a vast range of experience, gained in a diversity of worldwide geographies.

During his 43-year career with IBM, Jim Weiland logged over three million air miles worldwide in his role as manager, mentor, coach and consultant. He has extensive experience in North America, Latin America, Europe, Australia and Asia, including China. His expertise is in business transformation for enterprise process framework, finance, supply chain, sales and sales operations, and contract fulfillment.

“We recognize that many small to mid-market companies are in flux, on the rise and in need of Fortune 500 expertise but are without the financial resources of a large corporation,” said Jim Weiland. “We stand ready to offer our expertise, and as a team, over two centuries worth of IBM experience to help these companies.”

About J. Weiland, Slice & Co., LLC:

J. Weiland, Slice & Co., LLC, specializes in best practices in business transformation, targeting small to mid-market companies driven by volatile market forces to seek optimal business operations. Co-founder Jim Weiland and his team of experts are ex-IBM employees. As consultants, they help companies in need of Fortune 500 expertise but without the financial resources of a large corporation. Website is <http://www.jweilandslice.com>

###

Contact Information

Juliette Weiland

J. Weiland, Slice & Co.

<http://www.jweilandslice.com>

704-243-7312

Online Web 2.0 Version

You can read the online version of this press release here.